NERVOUS
DEBILITY
PILLS.

ENGLISH BRAND.

The only genuine cure for Lost Manhood, Exhausted Vitality, Weak Memory, Pupation of the heart, Premature Decay, Lack of Confidence, Inability of the Married (either sex), and Despondency, all of which follow in the trail of youthful Errors, Impudence and Excess.
I positively guarantee these Pills to do everything I claim for them—so strong is my faith in them that you can return them if they do not help you.
To introduce these Pills I will send a large ORG DOLLAR PACKAGE, which ought to be sufficient to cure any case of Debility, for only 20c.; enclose ten two-cent stamps in a letter with your address written plainly, and you will receive the Pills by return mail.
With the positive assurance on my part that you will never regret the day that you came in possession of this priceless remedy, whose influence besides restoring the vigor and extends itself to the intellectual faculties, elevating the emotions, dispelling the base of life and restoring its blessing.
Read the following testimonials as to whether I am curing people or not.
"The trial package of Nervous Debility Pills you sent me done me so much good that I thought I would send for more of them."
JOHN WATKINS, Collington, N. C.
"Find stamps enclosed for two more packages of your Nervous Debility Pills as these I got of you before done me more good than any medicine I have ever taken." ED. FINKSTON, Fredericksburg, O.
"Received the medicine, I think it good; will order some more."
JOHN WINKS, Broadlands, Ill.
"I received your medicine and am very much pleased with it; it has helped me already. Enclosed find money for a great many more."
T. M. ANDERSON, Westville, O.

$500 REWARD will be paid for a cure of Lost Manhood, Exhausted Vitality, Weak Memory, Pupa-
tion of the heart, Premature Decay, Lack
of Confidence, Inability of the Married (either sex), and Despondency, that I cannot cure.
Now after reading the above if you have any doubts about me or my medicine do not send, but if you really want to get cured of Debility, but getting well along in years and having already made a fair sized fortune in my medical practice, I have no desire now to get rich, all I care for now is to see how many people I can cure, so that they may enjoy this life. Now, remember that for a short time longer I will send you ONE LARGE PACKAGE OF THESE PILLS if you will wrap up two dollars and send to me within ten days after you receive this paper, I hope to have the pleasure of hearing from you at once.
Will I be successful? or do you prefer to remain a lifelong sufferer?
Enclose two dimes in your letter, and send at once to Dr. A. H. Smith,
AVON, N. Y.

and you will receive a large One Dollar Package by return mail.
Doctor Smith is reliable and merits public confidence.

Observation Cultivated.
A novel method of cultivating the faculty of observation in children has been introduced by a teacher in an up town kindergarten. She tells her pupils that she is about to have a call from some one who will remain only three minutes; that no one must directly stare at him, but that the pupil who gives the best description of him after his departure will receive a prize. The other day her father, a Grand Army veteran in uniform, performed the part of caller, and some of the personal descriptions after he had bowed himself out denoted unusually quick and accurate attention to detail.
One boy had counted all his buttons and gave the number correctly, another noticed an almost invisible scar on his face, and various others gave details of color and shape of his beard, hair and uniform. The one who received the prize was a little girl, who declared he had "an expression on his face."—Philadelphia Record.

Grip and Camphorated Oil.
During grip days camphorated oil does much good. It will often entirely dissipate symptoms of an influenza cold, with persons who have had grip seem peculiarly liable. Rub across the forehead and between the eyes. It is a relief, too, for the pains in the legs, which remain long after the attack is over. Rub with it around the muscles and knee joints, over and under. For this trouble, or for an exhausted condition following overwork, take one-half bay rum, one-fourth water and the rest spirits of ammonia, and rub the body well all over, particularly the legs and feet, and arms and hands.—New York Times.

A Costly Ton of Coal.
On Jan. 10, 1780, 13 men brought a wagon with a ton of coal from Loughborough in Leicestershire, to London, as a present to the then Prince of Wales.
When they were emptied into the cellar of the clerk of the collars gave them 4 guineas, and as soon as the prince was informed of it his highness sent them 20 guineas and ordered them a pot of beer each man. They performed their journey, which is 111 miles, in 11 days, and drew the coal all the way without any relief.
—London Tit-Bits.

The law requires Albany saloons to close at a certain hour. The excuse of one violator, charged with keeping open all night, was that his brother had gone out of town, taking the keys with him, and he could not lock up.

The bee is an artistic upholsterer. It lines its nest with the leaves of flowers, always choosing such as have bright colors. They are invariably cut in circles so exact that no compass would make them more true.

Figuring It Out.
A schoolmaster had been severely correcting one of his boys and finished by saying: "Now sit down and write a letter to your parents telling them how much you are taught here and how little you profit therefrom. I should be glad to tell them." The boy cried a good deal and then wrote:

"This time," said the master, "we will —er—overlook your conduct, and you needn't send that note." (He had been overlooking.)—London Tit-Bits.

God's side is never the whiskey side.

TO A YOUNG WOMAN.

You have asked me to write you a poem—Alack, what a task you have set For a slave, who is weak, but so willing To be to you all he can get From the field of his fancy and feeling And lay it down here at your feet, Ashamed of the tribute he offers, Because it is so incomplete.

Had you loaned me your eyes with their dreaming,
Had you loaned me your cheek with its glow, Had you loaned me your brow with its sweetness,
Had you loaned me your voice with its snow,
Had you loaned me your hand with its clasp, Had you loaned me your heart with its promise—
What a poem would be in my grasp!

But all these treasures of beauty, Of hope and affection and thought, Into some other poet's poem, I fear me, are already wrought.
And I take up my pen with doubting To write a response to your call, For the bricks I am making are straw-—I can't write a poem—that's all.
—Detroit Free Press.

First Public Concerts.
Public concerts owe their direct encouragement to John Banister, who had won fame by his playing on the violin, and who succeeded the celebrated Balt-zar as leader of Charles II's band of 24 violins. Peppy, in an entry in his diary for February, 1867, tells us the court gossip of the day—"how the king's violin Banister is mad that the king hath a Frenchman come to be chief of some part of the king's music."

It was rumored that he was dismissed from the royal service for saying English violins were better than the French, a statement which was no doubt regarded as heretical, opposed as it was to the prevailing court view as to the superiority of France in all questions of taste, and especially with regard to music.

Banister's concerts at the close of the year 1872 were advertised in the London Gazette as follows: "These are to give notice that at Mr. John Banister's house (now called the Music School), over against the George Tavern in White Fryers, the present Monday will be music performed by excellent masters, beginning precisely at 4 of the clock in the afternoon, and every afternoon for the future precisely at the same hour."

Four years later on we read again:
"At the Academy in Little Lincoln's Inn Fields will begin the first part of the Parley of Instruments, composed by Mr.
John Banister." The admission was at this time as a rule a shilling, and these concerts seem to have been held pretty regularly down to within a short time of Banister's death, which took place in 1879.—Chambers' Journal.

Miss Lizzie Boggs, of Polzer, is visiting relatives in town.

Last week was guano week here, as there were several car loads received for the alliance and others, around in this section. Slabtown gets four car loads—still the alliance is mighty dead, didn't you say.

Some emisary of some warm climate, or some other animal, committed considerable depredations in town, Saturday night, by cutting open several sacks of acid on the depot platform. "Oh, wouldn't I like to catch him," is the sentiment on this subject.

The colored Methodists and Baptist congregations are both putting up good new church buildings

Tax Machinery Clogged.

It has just been discovered that the passage of the county government bill has put the tax machinery of the State in a bad fix. The fact is that this machinery may be rendered useless.

Governor Tillman and the State officials will have to take prompt and vigorous measures to save lots of trouble, and even then it may not be avoided.

The peculiar position in which the State has been placed was discovered by a prominent lawyer, and there is no doubt that he is right.

The following contradictory portion of the county government bill told the story of the situation created by the bungling of somebody:

"Sec. 5. That the Governor shall appoint upon the recommendation of the Senator and member of the House of Representatives from the respective counties, three discreet freeholders in each township in the several counties of the State, who shall be known as the Board of township Commissioners, whose term of office shall be coextensive with that of the Governor by whom such Commissioner shall have been appointed, and until their successor are appointed and qualified. In case of a vacancy or in the case of the refusal of any person so appointed to serve as such Commissioner, the Governor shall fill the same as hereinbefore provided: Provided, That no person shall be required to serve more than once in every four years; and said Commissioner shall, during the term of his office, be exempt from all road and jury duty."
